Man faces 3 charges following shooting

by Andrew Milne

A Minden area man was back at work Thursday, after being shot in the shoulder just three days earlier. Vic Jones was shot by a neighbour late Monday night.

The victim says he probably has Tracey MacDonald to thank for the fact that he is alive. Jones and MacDonald were returning to their residence just off Highway 35 south of Minden around 10 pm August 7, when their neighbour, 74-year old Christopher Dam, emerged from the forest.

"I went to turn on the porch light," says Jones, "stepped off the porch, and he was there, like this, eyes glaring." He mimes a man clenching a rifle.

The bullet from the .22 calibre weapon struck Jones in the right shoulder, and lodged against bone. Jones went down.

"He turned the gun on Tracey," continues Jones, "and she grabbed the barrel, and wrestled it from him. I rolled away, crept in the back door."

MacDonald ran away with the rifle, and began flagging down traffic on nearby Highway 35, which was still relatively busy, late on a holiday weekend. Dam, apparently, returned to his residence next door.

The OPP then brought in a TRU (Tactical Response Unit) team, hostage negotiators and a canine unit. The team set up around midnight near Dam's residence, and attempted to establish contact with him by phone. By megaphone, the man was repeatedly urged to pick up his residence phone and talk with the police negotiator.

Highway 35 was closed to traffic. This was done, says investigating officer Dave McMartin, because the police couldn't be sure whether or not Dam had another weapon.

Dam, however, did not respond in any way. Attempts to establish contact continued until around 7:00 am, when the tactical team went in. They lobbed stun grenades through the windows and entered via a basement window and side door.

"They located him in the bathroom," says investigating officer Dave McMartin, "where he had cut his wrist. He was lying there bleeding."

Dam was taken to Minden hospital, where he received treatment for his injuries, and then to the Lindsay jail to await a bail hearing. Jones had been taken to Minden for stabilization, and then to

Inspections help save lives and property

by Jerry Grozelle

Fire inspections are an important part of fire prevention. That was one message that Bob McKeown, fire safety officer with the fire marshal's office, brought when he attended Anson, Hindon and Minden council Thursday.

McKeown said that fire prevention, including inspections, goes hand in hand with fire protection. He is a 32-year veteran, who has had experience at practically all levels of fire protection.

"There have been so many changes in fire programs since I started," he said.

Although some businesses view the inspections of fire safety officers as an intrusion, McKeown says he is actually assisting business owners. In this case, the old cliché, an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure, is very appropriate. The owner of a business that doesn't meet the fire codes would have a very difficult time collecting an insurance claim.

McKeown said the fire marshal's office is getting away from inspections in large cities. He said major centres have their own, very well equipped, fire departments with the personnel to maintain a fire prevention, inspection and education program, and therefore, don't need the services of the fire marshal's office as much as rural communities.

Fire inspections serve several important functions that benefit the business owner, the fire department and the community as a whole, McKeown says.

Buildings that have been inspected stand a better chance of being saved because fire department personnel know the layout of the interior. It is also beneficial to the firefighters because they will know where potential trouble spots are, the location of hazardous materials and potential escape routes.

As far as the community is concerned, McKeown said: "If a major business burns down, jobs are lost (at least temporarily) and sometimes the businesses never reopen."

Shaken and thankful victim returns to work three days after shooting

Sunnybrook in Toronto. Jones was reported to be in stable condition Tuesday, and by Wednesday, with the bullet still lodged in his shoulder he was back at work at Bridge View Motors in Minden. His arm was in a sling and he looked a little tired from it all, but he's glad it's over.

People have commented on the irony. He's only lived here about a year. A car dealer for 30 years in Toronto, he came up to quiet Minden to help a friend run his dealership — Ron Hopkins' Royal View Motors. "You come up here from Toronto, to get away from all that stuff," he says.

Jones is also full of praise for the doctor at Minden hospital who prepared him for transit, and for the police.

"They were great," he says. "They were right there. Dr. Doug Fiddler who got me ready was just wonderful. They deserve every bit of credit I can give them."

He has no idea, he says, why his neighbour shot him. "He just had a bad turn that day I guess," he says.

Residents on nearby Gull Lake say they heard the megaphone negotiation attempts throughout the night, and wondered what was going on, but really had no idea.

"The constant message," said Bill Treadgold who was awakened in the middle of the night by the megaphone requests for the man to respond, "was a request for someone to 'pick up the phone'. A number of times they repeated 'we know you're in there' and 'we want to resolve this peacefully — just pick up the phone'. This would go on for a while. They referred to him by name — Mr. Dam — and then there would be quiet for a while. And then it would pick up again. There was very little variation in anything the police officer said — obviously he was trying to calm down the individual in the house by keeping a very quiet, calm voice. Obviously we couldn't hear Mr. Dam at all, and we couldn't hear the phone ring."

The Treadgold cottage is located on the western shore of Gull Lake near the University of Toronto Survey Camp. However because it was night and they could not see any flashing lights, they weren't sure of the location of the voice. (Highway 35 is located across the lake, over a mile or more from the cottage.)

"We weren't sure," he continued, "where this was happening — whether it was on our side of the lake or the other side. It seemed like the other side. It was just kind of eerie having this voice in the night. 'Flick the porch lights on and off if you can hear me' the police would say."

"It was very strange, and rather exciting. You just conjure up all kinds of things when there's nothing — there's no light you can see at all. You really don't know."

Neighbours also report hearing cracks and booms through the night, but couldn't tell what it was. The police however say no shots were fired during the negotiations.

Dam is charged with attempted murder, using a firearm in the commission of an indictable offense, and pointing a firearm.

Dam was remanded in custody last Wednesday. He is expected to appear in court again today (August 14).

Seventeen letter mystery word revealed

T-R-I-S-K-A-I-D-E-K-A-P-H-O-B-I-A

The 17 letter mystery word in the The Times Sidewalk Sale competition, is a term which describes the fear of the number 13, as in: an unlucky number or hotels and apartment buildings where the numbering system mysteriously jumps from the twelfth floor to the fourteenth. Unfortunately the word itself does not have 13 letters. However, we did give our readers a number of clues which may have helped them unscramble the letters....it was the 13th annual sidewalk sale; we were offering 13 prizes and, as the line at the bottom of the copy read, "This year, 13 could be your lucky number".

Eleven of our readers were able to organize the 17 letters to spell triskaidekaphobia. Congratulations to: Mike Hudson (a guest of Bud and Betty Fleming on Gull Lake), Kim Warburton, Brian Cross, Gary Lewis, Karen Lytle, Lorna Hicks, Bev Wood, Pauline Ploord, Irv Mandel, Peter Nykyforiak and Dave Bulford.

One of our winners, Brian Cross, offered a second challenge. He said the word triskaidekaphobia appeared as the title of a song and in the lyrics as well. He has challenged anyone to name the band which performed that song.

Colourful results despite the challenges of the weather

by Margot Ziorjen

Neither storms, nor tornados, nor humidity laced with pollution will stop a flower show from happening in Minden.

The 16th annual Flower Show of the Minden and District Horticultural Society opened its exhibit titled "Back Then", to an enthusiastic crowd, welcomed by Illa Cooper. Words of praise for the Minden group were offered by Beryl Harris, Director of District No. 4, and Anne Bourke, President of the Ontario Horticultural Association. Both mentioned how admirable the showing was in Minden, when many other districts were having very poor results this year. A big thank you was delivered by our Reeve Jeanne Anthon for the never-ending effort by the Society to make our town colourful and welcoming with flowers planted in the various beds around town.

Guests in attendance included Malcolm McDonald from Cobourg, Joyce Thompson, Assistant Director from Cobocok, George Crisp from Norland, and Anson, Hindon and Minden Councillor Grant Ploord.

Twenty two exhibitors prepared 235 entries judged by Dora Attwell from Omeme and Hazel Wilson from Peterborough. Their job definitely was not an easy one, specifically with the "Imaginative" arrangements like 'Grandpa's Treasure, Grandma's Basket, Uncle Ben's Boot, Dad's Light, World War II, The Old Swimming Hole and The Old Outhouse'. Great fun to admire.

A rose by any other name..... is still not a perennial. In case you wonder why some fine exhibits didn't win, the judge's comment on the entry tags were very educational.

Where have all the children gone? Rebecca and Kaitlin Neave very capably represented the junior section, while everyone else is apparently on vacation. But, as Illa Cooper commented, the juniors have done a wonderful job of planting the barrels with flowers on Bobcaygeon Road north and are also responsible for maintaining them. A job well done!

As in past years, the organizing committee and their volunteer decorators, cookie bakers, coffee and tea brewers and smiling welcomers made the Community Centre a happy place to visit. This year's committee members were Jean Robson, Lynn Hancock, Illa Cooper and Clara Warren.

New members are always welcomed by the society. For a yearly fee of $3.00 and a lot of enthusiasm you too can enjoy participating in their many endeavours. It's fun. Monthly meetings are usually mentioned in Jeanne Sears' column in this paper. The society's motto "Wear a hat!" is good advice for anyone, if gardening or just going for a walk.

The following are the results from this year's show. The names in each class appear in the order of judging:

More than 200 people attend opening ceremonies

Phase 1 of Austin Sawmill Heritage Park completed

by Jerry Grozelle

While the rain poured all around Kinmount, the 200-plus people who attended the grand opening of the Austin Sawmill Heritage Park enjoyed hot, dry weather for the celebrations. Although the clouds threatened to spill their contents at times, they held off until after the park opening ceremonies were over.

Visiting dignitaries included Victoria-Haliburton MP John O'Reilly, Victoria-Haliburton MPP/Minister of Natural Resources, Northern Development and Mines, Chris Hodgson, Victoria County warden Ken Logan and Somerville reeve John Huke, among others. They were chauffeured from the old train station to the park by Ralph and Gerard Pearson, in a horse-drawn buggy.

The Highland Silver Flutes of Haliburton helped celebrate the occasion, playing O Canada and other selections. Each of the honoured guests spoke of the accomplishments and the wonderful job done by the people who worked so hard to make the park a reality.

Somerville councillor Clayton Came-ron, who is also the chair of the Kinmount Committee for Planning and Economic Development, spoke about how the project was developed and the contributions of those who made it possible.

Kinmount Legion president Joe Kelly and Neil Berry, a member of the committee, raised the flag.

A time capsule, containing numerous mementos of the summer of 1995, was placed in the monument. Included among the items in the time capsule were: A program from the day's events; a copy of the park proposal; a 1995 Kinmount Fair program; a flyer from Highlands Cinema, showing the movies that people were watching during the summer of '95; saw teeth from the mill; a list of Somerville and Galway-Cavendish councillors; and township pins.

The monument includes a plaque etched with the names of 45 people who contributed

CUTTING THE RIBBON: Dozens of people lined the waterfront at the Austin Sawmill Heritage Park to help cut the ceremonial ribbon at the official opening with the official opening. "Making preplanning arrangements is a simple process."

"If you've ever thought about making advance funeral plans, you probably have a lot of questions. There may be some uncertainty about what these arrangements include.

Preplanning is simply making a written record of your requests. Or you have the option to prepay for services or merchandise.

The reasons people choose to preplan may vary, but most want to assure their loved ones aren't burdened financially or emotionally. It's a comfort to know things are taken care of."

Michael Pearson. The wall-hanging will be on permanent display at the station, which has been converted to an information centre.

A line of people gathered along the river-front for a ceremonial ribbon-cutting. More than 50 people were involved in the ribbon cutting and on the count of three, a dozen or more pairs of scissors snipped the green ribbon simultaneously. Three hundred helium filled balloons were released at the same time.

To help raise funds for the project, a duck race was held after the ribbon-cutting. More than 500 yellow plastic ducks were dumped into the water at the dam, with the first three to reach the finish line earning their number holders cash prizes. The $500 first prize was won by Scott Charity of Kinmount. Ina Vanatter of Fenelon Falls won the $300 second prize and third prize of $100 went to Betty Scott of Kinmount.

Ralph Butts, with the help of T.J. Lown and Neville Knupp, all of whom are Crystal Lake cottagers who live in the city, set up the barricade to collect the ducks and determine the winners.

The duck race made about $700 for the cause.

A cake, made and decorated especially for the occasion by Patty Dudman, was served along with lemonade under the picnic shelter after the duck race.

"It couldn't have turned out nicer," said committee treasurer Cheryl Pearson. "We were really pleased."

Diane Austin, chair of the committee, said that there were many skeptics in the beginning who thought the project would never get off the ground.

"I think this demonstrates that we're serious," she said. "The spirit of co-operation is wonderful."

Austin says she hopes the momentum will continue for the second phase of the project; the restoration of the mill to operational condition.

NETTING THE WINNER: Ralph Butts scoops up the first duck across the finish line. The winner of the $500 first prize in the duck race was Scott Charity of Kinmount. Ina Vanatter of Fenelon Falls was the second prize winner ($300) and third ($100) went to Betty Scott of Kinmount.

JUST DUCKY: Cathy and Murray King donned duck costumes as part of the official opening of the Austin Sawmill Heritage Park.

PHASE 2: Some of the duck race contestants float past the end of the old mill. Phase 2 of the the project will see the old Austin Sawmill restored to working condition

Anson, Hindon and Minden

Council notes from Thursday, August 10

The following items were discussed during the August 10 meeting of Anson, Hindon and Minden council.

Down with decibels

Anson, Hindon and Minden council received correspondence from two area residents asking for reinstatement of a noise by-law. One request was in regard to barking dogs and the other was regarding aircraft and boats on Mountain Lake. The Mountain Lake resident went to the trouble of buying a decibel metre (which measures sound levels) and providing a copy of the City of Markham's noise by-law, which is about 80 pages long.

Anson, Hindon and Minden had a noise by-law, but rescinded it in 1992 because it was deemed virtually unenforceable.

Reeve Jeanne Anthon said she has talked to officials of other municipalities and they have expressed surprise that Anson, Hindon and Minden doesn't have such a by-law.

By-law enforcement officer Doug Schell has been talking to other municipalities about the subject and is still waiting for information. He has also contacted Transport Canada and is waiting for information from that government agency.

"What can we put in place that the courts will permit the municipality to enforce?" councillor Jerry Rome questioned.

"I'm not sure we can deal with it with a by-law anyway," reeve Anthon commented.

More information is required before any decision can be made.

Exclusivity? No way

A letter from the Senior Shuffleboard Club has raised the hackles of at least two AH&M councillors. The letter requests the exclusive use of the shuffleboard courts in Minden for the club.

Councillor Daryl Moore commented: "I find it offensive that they have indicated that the facility is for their use exclusively. It is township property."

Councillor Grant Plooard agreed.

Moore said he had no objections to the senior Shuffleboard Club running the facility but he wouldn't support giving the club exclusive rights. If other groups was interested in using the courts when the members aren't using it, he would be happy to see it getting more use.

Reeve Anthon said there may be opportunities for others to use the courts. She added that the sport has become popular with young people in other areas and there is no reason the courts shouldn't be available if other groups want to use them.

Petition for street improvements

A petition signed by people who live on North Water Street, and many who use the street to access their homes, was received by council. The petition requests repairs to the street as soon as possible.

During discussions, council noted that no money had been set aside for work on North Water Street in the near future.

Councillor Jerry Rome pointed out that the portion of the street from Bobcaygeon Road to Stouffer Street isn't in bad shape, but the portion from Stouffer Street to the end of North Water is not in good condition.

Rome added that many of the names on the petition are from people who don't use the part of North Water Street that is in the worst condition.

No repairs have been budgeted at this time.

Municipality decides level of fire services provided

He added that a major fire can have an adverse impact on an area's tourist industry. People often get the impression that the fire codes are not being enforced and therefore other businesses are unsafe as well, McKeown explained.

Smoke alarms and other early warning systems save lives and property, was another message McKeown stressed.

He said that building inspectors and fire chiefs should work together to make sure that buildings comply to fire safety standards as well as municipal building codes.

"Ignorance of the law is no excuse," McKeown said, adding that business owners who are in violation of the fire codes and suffer a fire that injures or kills someone could be liable to law suits or even criminal charges.

McKeown said that the fire chief is an agent of the fire marshal and as such, has the right to enter a building and inspect for fire hazards if there is a complaint. He recommended implementing a local fire inspection program.

The fire marshal's office only has jurisdiction over inspection of certain facilities, such as hotels and nursing homes.

McKeown said the bottom line is that the municipality decides what level of fire service will be provided.

"There is nothing in the law that says you have to do fire inspections," McKeown concluded.

Gull Lake regatta: the tradition continues

Gull Lake Regatta organizer Bill Treadgold provided The Times with the following summary of the annual event held Saturday August 5.

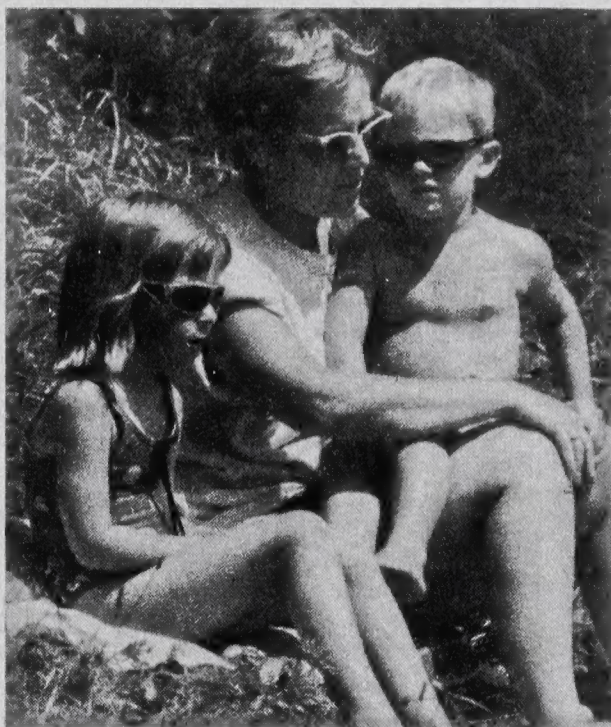

The success of any regatta depends on its participants. On Saturday, August 5, Gull Lake cottagers held their 71st annual regatta, and the attendance was the highest in the history of the event, the oldest in the Highlands, dating back to 1924.

I must confess, as I drove into Minden at 8:00 a.m.

that morning to pick up food for the day and looked at the overcast sky, I felt a few moments of trepidation, since some rather interesting "storms" have made themselves evident this summer. However, as the morning continued and set-up was completed by 10:30 a.m., the sun came out with the arrival of our youngest Gull Lake cottagers to compete in the morning events. These enthusiastic young people are the future of our regatta and they came out over 140 strong. Thanks to the support of the volunteers who conducted these races, the day had begun beautifully.

Each year the Duncan Trophy is awarded to the winner of the sailing race which is always held the week before the regatta. After handicapping, the trophy was awarded to Bill Lett Sr. and Bill Lett Jr. Bob and Beth Bailey received the silver medallions, and bronze medals were won by Bob and Joanne Hill, and Tom and Rick Fowle and Eric Dellarug, who tied for third place.

The Bedlington Cup is awarded to the entrant 16 years of age or under with the most accumulated points in six swimming and canoeing events. Mrs. Lyndsie Bedlington-Lewis, whose family donated the cup in 1924 and who won it herself for the first three years of the regatta, presented the cup to Kaylie Finnis, who has won it for the last three years. The silver medallion was awarded to David Barrett, and the third place bronze medallion went to Eric Yuill.

The Treadgold Trophy is awarded to the entrant 12 years of age or under with the most points in five swimming and canoeing events. It was my pleasure to award this trophy, donated by my family in 1960 in memory of my grandfather, Professor Treadgold, to Christopher Hughes. Alison Ross received the silver medallion, and bronze medallions went to Deena Larson, John Miles and Alan Wickware.

The top canoeist over 17 accumulating the most points in four challenging events is awarded the Minto Trophy. The Minto Family were the backbone of the University of Toronto Survey Camp, where our regatta has been held, for many years. On Saturday, Bob Minto, accompanied by his wife, Jean, and his sister, May Minto, presented the Minto Cup to Rick Kennedy, who also won the cup last year.

The gold medallions for the mixed terrain race, which involves teams of runners, swimmers and canoeists, were won by Rob Hutchinson, Charles Killin and Sandra Killin.

The two Sharpe family paddles are presented to the winning boy and girl under 12 in the singles canoe events, and were won by John Miles and Alison Ross. The two Earle family paddles are presented to the winning boy and girl under 16 in the single gunwale events, and were won by David Barrett and Sandra Schaefer. The two Crerar family paddles are presented to the winning boy and girl under 16 in the singles canoe events, and were won by Jeff Gordon and Kaylie Finnis. The Christie Family paddle is presented to the winner of the Treadgold Trophy, and was won by Christopher Hughes.

Every year many of the local merchants generously donate prizes for our raffle. This year, the response was superb and the quality of the prizes unequalled. The Gull Lake Cottagers' Association Executive determined, at a meeting in mid-July, that all the money taken in at our regatta, through the sale of food and raffle tickets, would be donated to the local Kinsmen, whose Penny Search is being conducted to support medical services.

Harry Ludlow brought Penny Search containers to the regatta and also conducted a canvass at cottagers' residences. We are all very conscious of the need for both seasonal and permanent residents of our area to work together to ensure a successful medical clinic and excellent urgent and emergency care for the us all.

The Gull Lake Cottagers' Association is planning a contribution to the local Lions Club to assist them in their fund-raising for the Clinic, and Harry Ludlow reported to me that over $1200.00 was raised at our regatta for the Kinsmen. A special "thank you" to the contributing local merchants appears in this week's issue of The Times. Your support of our raffle will help all of us, cottagers and permanent residents alike, to ensure first-class medical services in our local area.

Each year, it seems, our regatta gets bigger and better. Even though Mother Nature rained on our raffle at about 3:30 in the afternoon, our spirits were not dampened in the slightest and hundreds of people stayed, particularly to see who would win the hydrant. I am very grateful. The Gull Lake family of cottagers is truly committed to the pleasure of all of our children. The participants, volunteers, cheering crowd and contributors are gone for another year, but the memory of a wonderfully positive day is forever. Here's to the games of '95! Cheers!

Most spectators chose a shady, hillside vantage point.

A colourful display

If it is the major calamities which set our lives on edge, then perhaps it is the small things, like a caring friend or an unexpected kindness, which counter balance these impacts. All too often, the importance of these "little things" is overlooked or not appreciated.

Though always there, perhaps the efforts of Minden and District Horticultural Society falls into this category. So, what better time than now, when their work can be seen at its glorious best, to commend the members for their efforts.

The group just completed its annual flower show where members display their best of the season. Once again, the show was a "blooming success", despite the challenges thrown at the gardeners by this year's weather.

The society is to be commended, not only for this annual show, but also for stimulating an interest in good gardening on a year-round basis. Monthly meetings, held summer and winter, provide members with fresh ideas, informative speakers and congenial fellowship.

The Society wins our praise for the often over-looked "little things" the members do for our community. We refer to the colourful floral displays in the beds along the river, the barrels of flowers along the Bobcaygeon Road (the handiwork of the junior members of the group) and the other colourful touches which brighten our community from May to September.

So, allow us to repeat the comments of Reeve Jeanne Anthon and offer a tip of the gardening hat to the Minden and District Horticultural Society members for making Minden a more colourful community.

Patience and understanding

Editor:

How unfortunate that I must sit and write this letter to the residents of the Minden area.

The "Minden Unfriendliness" issue is beginning to grate on my nerves, not for the content of the letters to the editor, but rather, for the manner in which people's displeasure is being expressed.

I have lived in Minden for 18 of my 23 years of life, and in that time, I have been treated like royalty by the local businesses. I have also been ignored and spoken to rudely. I have travelled through the United States and many parts of Europe, where I have also been treated like royalty as well as ignored and spoken to rudely.

When I feel the service I receive is bad enough, I speak to the person about it, although usually I am able to be sympathetic to the person's humanity in that they cannot always be a happy, smiling robot. I must recommend to the shoppers of the area that if you have a problem with the service you receive, take it up first with the server or the manager in question rather than getting terribly upset and writing a nasty letter to the editor. Such actions only create or add fuel to controversy as opposed to solving the problem. I urge people to be patient and try to have some understanding that the summer months are stressful on those who work in our small town. I also urge people to have the courage to speak up in a positive way in order to improve customer service.

Finally, I urge people to voice praise to the people who deserve it. It puts us all in a happier mood, and to me, that's what I want to think about when I tell other about Minden.

Sincerely,

Heather M. Donaldson
(proudly of Minden)

Tribute to Minden's volunteer firemen

Editor:

All that's left is a blackened heap of what was once a pretty little white country bungalow. It was the sort of retreat that city folks like to own but rarely use, and brag to their friends about the country place. With gently rolling countryside behind it, a few snowmobile trails in the distance, and a tiny pathway leading off to nowhere in particular, it could have been an ideal retirement home.

At 3 a.m. on August 8th, the acrid smell of smoke filled the air, and across the road a bonfire was raging. I called the Minden Fire Department, as did two others, and they responded admirably. By 3:10 they were on the scene, faster than the legal speed limit to get from the station house. Do our firemen go to bed dressed ready for a fire? Around 3:30 a.m. the fire was under control, requiring 7 or 8 trips to a nearby lake to refill the second truck with 1500 gallons of water each time. Under the direction of acting captain Craig Crowe, about 12 local men, all volunteers, worked professionally and diligently to combat the blaze. By containing the fire, other homes and property were spared. Brave deeds by brave men. These same men work locally. We all meet them at local stores or service centres. They often lose pay to act in this very necessary role. One friend, a volunteer, says that they have fought 65 fires so far this year. That means that he, as a self employed mechanic, (Sean Allore) has probably lost 20 to 30 days pay.

The scene of the 3 a.m. blaze sticks in my mind and admittedly in a few nightmares. Had these 12 men not given of their time unselfishly, the outcome would have been different, and we can only give our heartfelt thanks to these friends and neighbours. There are about 19 active volunteers. That seems like a small roster for such a large area. Thank you gentlemen.

Golfing with God

If you watch a game, it's fun. If you play it, it's recreation. If you work at it, it's golf.
Bob Hope.

Well here we are moving into the shank of the year ... spring is long gone, summer's fading fast, autumn is all but upon us ...

And I have yet to make it out for a single round of golf.

Just like last year. And the fifty years before that. Hell, I'm moving into the shank of my life and I have yet to play a round of golf.

And how do I really feel about this shocking recreational deprivation? Well, the phrase Yippee! springs to mind.

Golf is a Scottish invention of course. It belongs right up there with those other famous Hibernian contributions to civilization: haggis, the bagpipes, oatmeal breakfast.

My ancestry is solid lowland Scot, but I do not golf. Never took it up and don't care to start. Got better things to do than try to bludgeon a little white pill to death with a set of customized fire pokers under the blazing sun. Besides, I haven't got a pair of polyester puce slacks to my name.

It's not that I'm particularly lazy — or even unsportsmanlike. I wouldn't take up Algebra, either. And I sense that golf, like Algebra, is designed to drive you nuts.

The very premise is nuts. You try to hit the ball as few times as possible? As few times? Why not leave the ball in your pocket, chalk up a perfect game and save yourself the grief?

Besides, I'm just not lucky enough to be a decent golfer. Not like Peter Croke.

Did you hear about this guy? He's a British golfer who was playing in a match at the Southerndown Golf Club in Wales. He hits a drive from the 17th tee that hooks to the left of the green and bounces into ... a sheep.

Specifically, the ball lodges under the tail of the grazing sheep, which then meanders 30 yards closer to the 18th hole. At which point the sheep gives a little shake and the ball ... plops out on the green.

Nothing in the rules about assistance from sheep. Golfer Croke plays the ball from its new position and wins the match.

That is a true story, I'm not sure about the following, but it was told to me by a buddy of mine who spends a lot of time adding to his collection of drink coasters at the 19th hole.

Seems that God was sitting around one hot summer day at loose ends. He picks up the phone and calls Moses. "How about a game of golf?" asks God. "You're on" says Moses. An hour later they're teeing off at Celestial Downs Golf and Country Club.

Moses goes first. He sets up his ball, takes a couple of practice swings, a deep breath, settles in behind the ball and then...

CRAAAAAAAAAAACK!

It's a beauty. Two hundred and eighty, maybe three hundred yards straight down the fairway. Moses is in good shape.

God steps up to the tee.

No practice swings, all kind of loosey goosey, he whangs the ball, which skitters crazily across the grass, bounces off a tree and caroms in a swamp on the rough.

But instead of sinking in the slime, the ball bounces off a turtle shell, hits a log, pops straight up about six feet, whereupon a huge golden eagle swoops down and seizes the ball in his talons.

God and Moses watch as the majestic bird pumps its mighty wings up, up, until it's not more than a dot in the sky. At this point, the eagle drops the ball, which falls straight down in the dead centre of a lake right beside the second green. Just as the ball is about to splash into the lake, a huge coho salmon rises to the surface, flips on its side, catches the ball in the fleshy meat just above the pectoral fin, lets the ball slide down towards its tail, the flips the ball in a graceful arc onto the green where it dribbles into cup.

Moses turns to God and says "We gonna play some golf today or are you just going to fool around?"

11 teams compete for prizes in Minden Rock Bass Derby

Top team caught 18.5 pounds of fish as well as big fish of the day

The team of Kelly Ketner, Mike Hamilton and Mark Hamilton captured first place in the Minden Sidewalk Sale Family Rock Bass Derby Thursday. The skilful anglers caught 18½ pounds of rock bass over the course of the seven-hour derby. They also caught the big fish of the day, a 9¼-inch rock bass that earned the trio an extra $10, donated by Gord Monk.

Prizes for the derby consisted of fishing tackle packages, some of which were donated by Minden Home Hardware, Minden Live Bait and Tackle and Stedman's.

Second place was won by Jamie Colliss and Graham Neave of Minden with a catch of six pounds three ounces.

Matt Hynard and Andrew Graham were the third prize winners with three pounds five ounces.

Fourth went to the team of Jeff Mickle, Brad Mickle, Matt Mickle and Shane Both of Minden with a catch of three pounds four ounces.

Deanna Shearer and Dustin Baird of Minden placed fifth with two pounds 10 ounces.

The sixth to 11th prize winning teams each caught less than two pounds of rock bass. They were: Sixth, Jordan Roman and Joshua Szakal of Brampton; seventh, Ryan Clark of Minden; eighth, Robert Stevens and Ronald Stevens of Minden; ninth, Jaclyn Carmichael of Markham; 10th, Ben Batten of Uxbridge; and 11th, Darren Bond of Newmarket.

The weigh-in was conducted in front of Beckers at 4 p.m. Thursday.

The Minden Business Improvement Area sponsored the event.

SKILLFUL ANGLERS: Everybody was a winner in the annual Minden Sidewalk Sale Family Rock Bass Fishing Derby last Thursday. Eleven teams of anglers tested their skill at catching rock bass. The lure of fame and booty, in the form of fishing tackle (and what angler couldn't use more tackle), drew the anglers to the Gull River for seven hours of gruelling competition fishing. Look out Rocky Crawford, some of these young anglers may be competing against you on the pro fishing circuit in a few years. Today, rock bass -- tomorrow large mouth bass, walleyes and muskies?

Minden Historical Quiz

*Last week's question:
Who is the Minden subdivision McKayville named for?*

Answer: Haliburton County's first subdivision was built in Minden by a woman, Rubena McKay. She served as post-mistress at Hindon Hill before purchasing the Frederick Burt farm and moving into town in 1938. Her husband passed away shortly thereafter and she had the property surveyed and sold as a subdivision later. The area just off the Bobcaygeon Road north of the bridge is still known today as McKayville.

Time out!

When you're into the sport of things, you're at your best without alcohol. Drinking affects your ability to concentrate, perform and react. It can make the difference between being in the game or out of it.

So, put that cold one on hold for later. Here are some tips.

- Tip 1. Exercise your choices. It doesn't make sense to drink when you're playing sports or in the stands. Make recreation a non-drinking time.
- Tip 2. Quench your thirst with water or juice. Alcohol, including beer, leads to fluid loss and just makes you thirstier.

Curry Motors hosts autograph session with Bernie Nicholls

Fans line up for NHL star's signature

For a couple of hours last Wednesday afternoon a steady stream of young -- and not so young -- hockey fans trooped into the Curry Motors showroom in Haliburton. The special attraction was Chicago Black Hawk centre Bernie Nicholls, who was there to sign autographs and chat with fans.

Hats, Black Hawk sweaters and Bernie Nicholls hockey cards (even a few rookie cards) were brought to the auto dealership to be adorned with Bernie's signature. And a few just dropped in to shake hands with the local boy who made it big time in the National Hockey League.

The Black Hawks' charge to the Stanley Cup finals was halted by the Detroit Red Wings, but not before the Hawks eliminated the Toronto Maple Leafs.

The 34 year-old West Guilford native will be back on the ice again in a few weeks for the exhibition season in preparation for the 1995-96 campaign.

Sir Edmund Hillary coming to Minden

by Jerry Grozelle

A once-in-a-lifetime opportunity is coming up this fall, so mark Monday, November 6 on your calendars. It will be a day when people from the area will have a chance to meet Sir Edmund Hillary, one of the world's foremost adventurers and humanitarians. He is coming to Minden, sponsored by the Minden and Haliburton Rotary Clubs.

How was Sir Edmund persuaded to come from his home in Auckland, New Zealand to a village halfway around the world, you might ask?

Connections.

Ross Rigney, Snowdon Township councillor and newly appointed administrator for Haliburton County, is one of 15 people on the board of directors of The Sir Edmund Hillary Foundation. The Foundation was established by Zeke O'Connor, a former National Football League player with the Toronto Argonauts. When O'Connor retired from football, he worked for Sears. Rigney worked for Sears at the same time and the two became friends.

O'Connor met Hillary in 1971. He became so interested in Hillary's humanitarian work that he accepted an invitation to accompany the adventurer to Nepal, where Hillary was focusing his efforts on improving the lives of the Sherpa people by building schools and hospitals in that remote and mountainous country, in the shadow of the world's highest mountain, Mount Everest.

Rigney instigated the series of events that led to Sir Edmund's commitment to visit Minden. He invited O'Connor to come to Minden this past February, where he was the guest speaker at the Minden Rotary Club. O'Connor explained that Sir Edmund would be in Canada in November and promised to arrange the visit if the Rotary Club was interested in sponsoring the event. Meetings with the Minden and Haliburton chapters of the Rotary Club were very positive and the deci-

Stanhope truck purchase will go ahead

by Andrew Milne

Stanhope should be able to get around provincial cuts to road improvement programs with quite moderate expense, says clerk-treasurer Gerald Bain.

Bain told council at their regular meeting August 9 that though the Harris government cut around $21,000 from a grant meant to be directed toward purchase of a new truck for the roads department, the Ministry of Transportation and Communications (MTOC) has also guaranteed that supplementary grants will be made next year to make up the amount. So the truck can still be purchased, though Stanhope may pay around $400 in interest, says Bain.

The MTOC handles transfer payments to municipalities for the purposes of road building and maintenance.

"It's a bit of a hardship, but there seems to be a way around it," concluded Bain.

The provincial cuts across the province to road budgets totalled $74 million — $40 million of which came from a 50 percent reduction in allocations for all municipal road projects under the subheadings of major special projects, highway connecting link construction, and smaller lower-tier government supplements. Stanhope's project fit under the last of these three.

The road budget cuts were made in the wake of the $1.8 billion cut in overall expenditures announced July 21, due to an inaccurate financial forecast by former NDP Minister of Finance Floyd Laughren.

The council also met with representatives from the Boshkung Lake Property Owners Association (BLPOA) concerned with the installation of a dock near a public road allowance lake access — between concessions 4 and 5, lot 10, in Stanhope.

The councillors told the representatives they had not given permission for the installation of the dock, but could not yet rule on it until hearing from their lawyer on the matter. "However, I'd like to assure you we will deal with it, and if necessary we will call a special meeting prior to our next council meeting," said deputy-reeve Eleanor Harrison.

Mountain Lake sailors & swimmers compete

It was a busy long weekend for the cottagers on Mountain Lake. On Saturday, in gentle winds, the sailing race was won by Don Morrison in an albacore. In second place was George Steeves with Ian Daniel following in third place.

There was a good turnout for the Mountain Lake long distance swim on Sunday. This nearly 20 year old event of just over a mile swim was won by Ellen Newbold with a time of 30:46. Ed Forsbey was second with a time of 31:48, Nancy Morrison came in third with a time of 32:40. A good strong tail wind helped to give the swimmers some of their best times.

Denna Lake donation

The Denna Lake Cottagers Association held its annual meeting July 1. Many items were discussed, new members welcomed and updated addresses were collected for our emergency services map. The new executive was elected and includes: Norm Gemmell president, Doris Hildreth secretary and Pat Bradburn treasurer.

The annual lake swim was held on August 5. Wendy Hepburn was first, Shawn Gemmell and Derek Sullivan tied for second and Chris Call was third. The race was followed by a delectable pot luck lunch. Later, Glen Yakely spoke on beavers and demonstrated his traps. Bev Sullivan was the winner of the book 'Waterways' donated by The Times. The group unanimously approved a $250 donation to the Lions Medical Clinic in Minden

Hillary will visit in November

ity will seat 650 people and organizers hope it will be filled to capacity.

The evening's program will feature a slide presentation, with commentary by Hillary. Following the slide presentation, Hillary will speak for a short time and then he will answer questions and sign autographs.

"When he comes here," O'Connor said, "you're going to hear one of the top five speakers of our generations, both yours and mine. He does a lot of research. He's keenly interested in people."

Posters, New Zealand $5-bills that feature Sir Edmund's portrait, and a limited number of books will be on sale. The event is a fund-raiser for the Sir Edmund Hillary Foundation. O'Connor proudly declared that 100 per cent of the money raised at events such as the one slated for Minden in November go directly to the Sir Edmund Hillary Foundation.

First to conquer Everest

Hillary was the first to climb to the peak of Mount Everest on May 29, 1953, a feat that earned him a Knighthood, one of the first bestowed by the newly crowned Queen Elizabeth II.

Three years later, after winning the race to the South Pole, Sir Edmund went back to the Himalayas, a visit that kindled a deep interest in the Sherpa people of Nepal. It was during a conversation with the Sherpa Headman of a village in Nepal that the village leader asked Hillary if he could help bring schools and hospitals to the people of the region.

Since that time, Sir Edmund has dedicated much of his life to that quest. He has been the driving force in the construction of hospitals, medical clinics and schools, some of which are at the highest altitude of any such facilities in the world. He has also helped to introduce a reforestation program. Nurseries have been established in Nepal to produce the seedlings for the reforestation program.

Although the altitude causes health problems for the 77 year-old Hillary, he still visits the villages of Nepal. Sir Edmund has never slowed down since climbing Mount Everest. O'Connor rhymed off an impressive list of accomplishments, projects and commitments. He is not only helping the Sherpa people, he is also the honorary life chairman of the International Wildlife Foundation, as well as the Explorer's Club and several others that are involved with the environment. Hillary is also involved with the Scout movement, UNICEF and several other organizations. The list goes on and on.

"I think the young people today relate to his commitment to environmental issues," O'Connor said.

"He's a true adventurer," O'Connor continued. "He has that wonderful spirit of leadership. I've never met a better leader."

O'Connor says leadership is probably the most valuable asset anyone can possess.

"It really isn't his climb of Mount Everest that his closest friends admire him for," O'Connor said. "It's the work he's done over there with the people of Nepal. He's poured millions and millions of dollars into Nepal and the high Himalayas to help educate the Sherpas."

For the past 25 or 30 years, Hillary has taken annual wilderness camping trips to Canada and the United States. Most of the equipment for those trips is provided by Sears. New equipment is tested on these trips.

"He has been on the Sears advisory staff since 1965," O'Connor said.

The Sir Edmund Hillary Foundation in Canada is one of several organizations world wide that support the projects initiated by Sir Edmund.

He received the highest honour bestowed by the British Empire on June 19 of this year. The Queen selects the people who are so honoured and only 24 people alive can be members of the Order of the Guard.

Will people be interested in meeting an explorer of Hillary's calibre? Jerry Rome of the Minden Rotary Club is convinced they will. He said he spoke to several young people in their late teens and early 20s about Hillary's visit and their response was very positive.

"They were as excited as could be," he said. "They were keen."

He added that the response was quite good.

"I'm thrilled that Rotary is a part of this," Rome said.

Organizers Jerry Rome, left and Ross Rigney, met with Zeke O'Connor, centre, last week to plan for the visit of Sir Edmund Hillary

The Circus comes to town

Stanhope hosted an old fashioned tent circus August 6. The Kelly Miller Circus set up its tents and entertained two enthusiastic audiences in a three-ring extravaganza under the big top Sunday afternoon. Spectators were invited to watch as the tents were raised with the help of elephant muscle power early Sunday morning. The shows included the traditional array of circus acts: trained animals, jugglers, high-wire artists and of course clowns. The event was sponsored by the Stanhope Firefighters' Association.

Trent-Severn waterway report

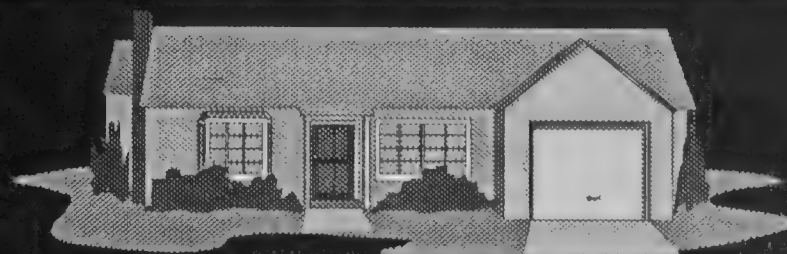

Despite relatively heavy withdrawals of water from the Haliburton area lakes, the rain that came on August 4 and 5 resulted in no net loss over the week. The lakes were at 77% on Tuesday, August 8, which was about 9.5% more than the 20-year average and very close to 1994 levels for that date. A surplus is now more likely than a shortage by Labour Day, so a flow greater than minimum will probably be run the rest of the summer.

The Kawarths received some rain, but only rose about 3% over the week. They were about 5% higher than the 78-year average.

An average flow of 23 m³/s (cubic metres per second) has run from the Kawarths during the first week of August when the monthly flow normally averages 32.5 m³/s. It is still above the minimum of about 17 m³/s.

Lake Simcoe is creeping down, but staying 8 or 9 centimetres above its rule curve. The flow leaving the lakes at Washago is a little more than normal which causes Lake Couchiching to be several centimetres lower than Lake Simcoe due to the drawing-down effect immediately upstream of the dams. Even in Washago, however, it is the rule curve

200 attend Boshkung Lake regatta

(Paul Cherry of the Boshkung Lake Ratepayers Association prepared the following report on the group's annual regatta. Photos by Time photographer Andrew Milne.)

The annual regatta on Boshkung Lake held on Saturday, August 5, at the Archer's Matabanick Inn was very successful despite the heavy rains that eventually caused the executive to close down operation three quarters of the way through.

There were approximately 200 people attending who had a great time participating in an array of land and water events.

The regatta was supported by a large number of volunteers from the lake who represent the genuine spirit and long standing history of Boshkung.

You could feel the excitement in the air right up until the first raindrop, yet in true Boshkung style, when the showers scattered the crowds, everyone made light of the situation.

The results are as follows:

One year exchange whets her appetite

Student plans to return to Brazil

by Misty Bennett

Bobbi Griffin has returned to Haliburton County, following her year long stay in Brazil. She went to Brazil as part of the Rotary Youth Exchange program, sponsored by the Haliburton Rotary Club.

Griffin admits Brazil had an exotic appeal. "It's different. Almost everyone goes to Europe or Australia and Brazil seemed more of a challenge."

Portuguese is the language of the country. When Griffin left Canada she had no knowledge of the language that she was to speak for the next year, however she was able to get some knowledge of Portuguese while on the plane by speaking to the stewardesses. Travelling with Griffin to Brazil were three exchange students from other districts in Ontario. Their companionship helped make the long journey tolerable. The trip, including layovers, lasted 19 hours.

Griffin spent the majority of the year in Campina Grande, in northeast Brazil. This city of 400,000 people is considered very small by Brazilian standards. Brazilians "cannot even imagine the size of Haliburton," states Griffin. The city is situated in a small but beautiful chain of mountains. Griffin feels Brazil is a gorgeous country and still very natural. "The northeast is considered to be the most beautiful part of Brazil. I was glad to be assigned to the northeast," admits Griffin.

While in Brazil, Griffin stayed with three host families. She remained with the first for five months, the second for four months and the final family for two and a half months. One thing that Griffin noted was the size of the families. The families of her 'parent's' generation in particular were exceptionally large. These families had as many as 13 brothers and sisters.

Griffin didn't travel much outside of her host city, but she did manage to visit many of the state capitals. Fortaleza was her favourite city. The city is located twelve hours north of Campina Grande. She also spent a month at the beach with one of her host families, in December during the holidays. One of Griffin's cousins joined her for the month-long holiday.

Griffin's most memorable experiences are of Carnival and a four day party, 'Micarande'. The party was divided into fifteen "blocks" of various sizes. Each of these "blocks" was roped off with security guards stationed around the perimeter. Each block had its own distinctive style of dress. For example everyone in one block would be wearing the same style and colour of shorts and shirts. "I was in one of the largest blocks. There were about 4,000 people in my block," Griffin recalls with a smile. Included in the block was a band playing on the back of a truck. The blocks moved along a seven kilometre route between the concert hall where the procession originated and their destination, the park. "Everyone was dancing, screaming and singing. It was nuts. Brazilians definitely know how to enjoy themselves."

In Griffin's district there were between twenty and twenty-five exchange students. The closest were three to four hours away. She managed to meet with them a few times during the year, and by pure luck, flew home with two of the three exchange students with whom she travelled to Brazil.

Although Griffin didn't receive academic credits for attending classes, she was required to follow a regular school routine. The Brazilian school system varies greatly from ours in that the school day runs from 7:00 am to 12:00 noon. There were sixty people in each class, and the teachers came to the students, instead of the students moving to different classrooms. The only break in the five hour day is a fifteen minute recess, usually around 9:30 a.m., otherwise the students are constantly at work. Brazilian students must take all classes, with no options offered. Classes follow a five day schedule, Monday to Friday.

Perhaps Griffin's most harrowing experience occurred during her flight home. "We got on the plane at 7:00 a.m. in Brazil, at 3:00 p.m. As we approached Miami, the captain told us we had to go to the Bahamas due to hurricane warnings."

They did manage a safe landing in Miami, in spite of Hurricane Erin which had not yet reached land. However, Griffin and the two other exchange students could not get a connecting flight to Toronto, since all flights had been grounded. They booked a flight for the next day but were told they would have to spend the night in the airport since all the hotels were full. Luckily Griffin's mother had heard about the hurricane and reserved a room at a hotel for her. The three students stayed the night there and went back to the airport the next morning, hoping to catch the flight to Toronto. At the airport they were told that there would be no more flights to Toronto for another three days.

Using her resources Griffin asked if there were any flights out of Miami to other destinations from which she could catch a flight to Toronto. There were several flights heading north so she and one of the exchange students flew to Washington D.C., the other flew to Buffalo. Once in Washington they were able to catch a connecting flight to Toronto.

Griffin's mother met her in Toronto, and two days after she arrived in Haliburton, her luggage followed. She was able to surprise her family and friends by coming home five days earlier than scheduled.

In the fall Griffin plans to go back to HHSS to complete her OACs. She expects to take a year and a half to complete her schooling.

Griffin will be returning to Brazil for Christmas and "in June as soon as exams are done, I'm going back," she says enthusiastically. She plans to spend all next summer in Brazil.

"It was the most amazing experience of my life. I am grateful to my parents and Rotary. It changed my life. It really changed my life," she reiterated.

As for life back home, Griffin is finding it difficult to acclimatize herself to Canadian weather. The coldest temperature in Brazil was 18 degrees Celsius, so the 14 degree nights are still a little hard on her and she still needs a sweatshirt to ward off the chill.

Bobbi Griffin, home after an exciting year in Brazil.

Hunter courses start soon

Hunter training courses will be offered in the Minden area between August 23 and November 1, 1995.

"Ontario residents who are applying for their first hunter's licence and any Ontario resident who has not held a licence since January 1, 1968, must complete the Ontario Hunter Education Courses and pass the Hunting Licence Examination," said Cindy Blancher-Smith, acting district manager, Bancroft.

Hunters should contact instructors at the following telephone numbers in the Minden and Haliburton area for more information on dates and locations of courses:

Brian Austen (Minden)	(705) 286-4634
Henry Yates (Haliburton)	(705) 448-3248
Harely Collings (Norland)	(705) 454-1982
Norm McKinnon (Minden)	(705) 286-1129
Peter Sheppard (Gooderham)	(705) 447-2981
Kevin Coppins (Kirkfield)	(705) 438-3384

Hunting licence examinations will be given, by appointment only, in Minden on August 23, September 11, October 10 and November 1, and in Haliburton on October 1. Applications for hunting licence examinations should be made at the MNR Minden office.

Hunter education training began in 1957 and became mandatory for Ontario hunters in 1960. The required training courses and examinations have resulted in a higher level of skill, knowledge and responsibility among Ontario hunters. Hunting accidents have declined by more than 70 per cent since the implementation of the mandatory program.

Returns add up

Beer drinkers made their contribution to the Lions Medical Clinic this past week.

Under the supervision of store manager Barry Smith, individuals collecting refunds for their returned empty beer bottle were offered the option of contributing the money to the clinic.

The collection began July 31 and by August 5 the effort had raised $543.50. The money was turned over to a Lions Club representative with appreciation to Smith, his staff and the many beer store customers who added to the fund.

Minden U.C.W. hosts tea

I have been away for the past week but I will do my best to fill you in on the week's activities.

Senior League

by Donna Wallace

Janice had fitness Monday morning. Later she held a spelling bee with several folks. Doris says it's amazing how well the folks can spell.

Tuesday morning Rev. Parker took the Chapel Service. The residents were treated to an outside barbecue at noon. In the afternoon the folks were busy making all sorts of decorations for future holidays. We have a new volunteer. We welcome Ruth Hamilton to our craft sessions.

Wednesday morning Janice and her faithful fitness folks limbered up. In the afternoon the bus was loaded for a trip to Carnarvon & Dorset. I surmise that they made their usual stop at Kawartha Dairy. That is a bright spot for the people. In the evening Kathleen & Earl played music in the main lounge.

Thursday morning started with fitness. Later the Minden U.C.W. Sarah Group had a lovely tea party for the residents. We thank them and also Rev. Burgess & Pat Scott for volunteering.

Friday morning the folks spent time folding serviettes. In the afternoon Mike & Connie Biagi, Frank Faulkner & Smoky, resident Edith Brittain's son, entertained at happy hour. A good time was had by all.

Saturday afternoon it was "Renditions" with Jock Mavor. Thank you Jock.

Sunday evening Chapel Service was taken by Rev. Burgess. June Mason accompanied the singing by playing the organ.

Birthday wishes go to Gordon Cavanagh. He celebrated August. 4. Happy Birthday Gordon.

Trivia: Did you know that dirty snow melts faster than white snow because it's darker and absorbs more heat.

Choir returns to Broadway

The greatest hits of the Great White Way will be featured on Wednesday, August 30, when the Haliburton Messiah Choir presents "Broadway Through the Decades" at Pinestone Resort and Conference Centre.

From Irving Berlin to Andrew Lloyd Webber, from ragtime to Rodgers and Hammerstein — you'll hear a full evening of all your favourites. Ken Brown, featured columnist with SummerTimes, will lead you through the decades with amusing and informative anecdotes about the composers and their music.

When the Haliburton Messiah Choir first presented this concert back in May 1994, it was sold out and many people were turned away disappointed.

Tickets are $10.00 per person. They're available at the Minden IDA Drug Store, Nancy's Flowers in Haliburton, and Pinestone (on Highway 121 between Minden and Haliburton). Proceeds will go to the Women's Emergency House.

The concert starts at 8:00 p.m. The bar will be open from 7:00 p.m., as well as during the intermission and after the performance.

Draft Forest Management Plan Minden Crown Management Unit

The Ministry of Natural Resources has completed its draft forest management plan for the Minden Crown Unit and this draft is now available for public review. This plan will cover all logging and other forestry activities on the Minden Unit for the five years beginning April 1, 1996. You may review this plan at the Minden MNR office during normal office hours any time between August 14 and October 13, 1995. If you wish to discuss it with forester responsible for the Minden Unit, you should call ahead for an appointment.

This is stage three of a four-stage planning process. The draft forest management plan has been developed after taking into account comments received during the initial review at stage two of the planning process.

The following list outlines some of the information that will be available for you to review and make comments on:

- 1) The calculation of the sustainable level of timber harvest on the Minden Unit, and a comparison with the harvest levels planned for the next five years.
- 2) Maps showing the specific areas which have been allocated for logging and other forestry activities.
- 3) The logging and silvicultural methods which will be employed in each of these areas.
- 4) Maps showing the location of special features near the proposed operations, and the special measures which will be used to protect these features from damage.
- 5) The volume of timber that these operations are expected to produce, by species and product, and the method of licensing to the forest industry.
- 6) The outcome of the MNR's internal review of the plan.

Public Review Period

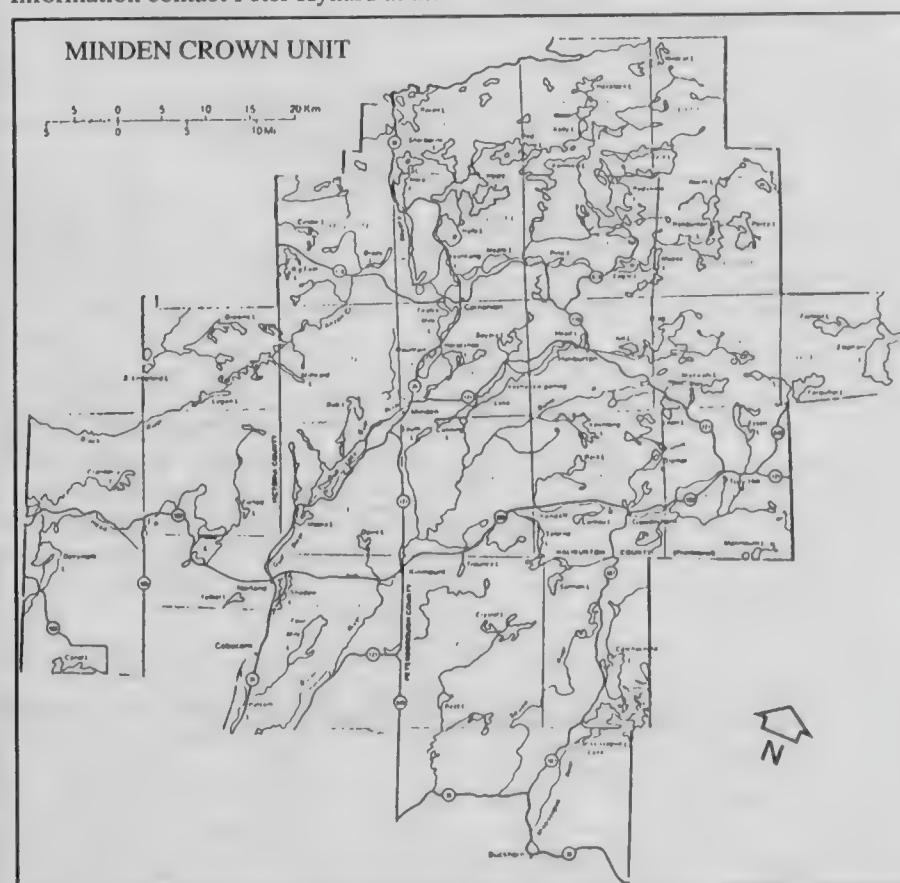

This draft forest management plan will be available for public review and comment during normal office hours from Monday, August 14, 1995 to Friday, October 13, 1995 at:

Ministry of Natural Resources
Highway 35
Minden, Ontario K0M 2K0
Tel.: (705) 286-1521

Any group or individuals with concerns regarding this draft forest management plan is asked to submit written comments by Friday, October 13, 1995 to Stan Flemming, Forest Management Plan Leader, at the above address.

The Ministry of Natural Resources is collecting comments and information regarding the draft forest management plan under the authority of the Crown Forest Sustainability Act to assist in making decisions and determining further public consultation needs. Comments and opinions will be kept on file for use during the forest management plan period and may be included in study documentation which is made available for the public.

Under the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act (1987) personal information will remain confidential unless prior consent is obtained. However, this information may be used by the Ministry of Natural Resources to seek public input on other resource management surveys and projects. For further details on Freedom of Information contact Peter Hynard at the above address.

Development: at what cost?

Papua New Guinea (PNG) is a classic illustration of what is happening in the countries of the South.

Upon becoming independent of Australia in 1975, PNG was encouraged to accept development loans from the World Bank, invite foreign investment in mines and logging and generate revenue from coffee and oil palm plantations. But can one set a "fair market price" for land that is sacred — the source of life, history, and spiritual sustenance? And who does it?

After the Arab oil embargo, energy prices and interest rates leapt skyward in the late '70's, while world coffee prices collapsed in the 80's.

By 1989, the global economy had impoverished PNG and the country was forced by the World Bank to accept a Structural Adjustment Program. Bank advisers were sent to oversee cuts in education, health and other social services. Yet the debt continued to grow to $1 000 US per capita and now consumes a quarter of the national budget on interest alone.

Mining and logging generate enormous sums (one member of Parliament told me the market value of logs alone was between $10 billion and $20 billion US a year), but most of the money flows directly or indirectly out of the country. Now, the World Bank is pushing a Land Mobilization Program to encourage more of its notion of development as if land which has supported a rich variety of human cultures for 40 000 years is not already well and appropriately "developed." The program will allow people to use the land as collateral for loans, thus plunging them deeper into an economy that has already made them poor.

Money is a new and alien concept to many of these tribal people and even where they still live traditionally, clan leaders may be bought off for a fraction of the value of the trees and minerals ultimately extracted. Denuded land and polluted rivers are often the legacy left after the companies move on.

It is criminal. People from foreign owned companies lie, bribe and cheat landowners to gain access to resources for a pittance.

I met people whose leaders had sold logging rights for 500 kina ($500 Cdn) per family when a single tree fetches far more than 500 kina. Most skilled mining and logging jobs go to outsiders. Most politicians turn a blind eye to what is going on and are among the country's wealthiest people.

In a speech in Port Moresby, I suggested that by any objective assessment of natural resources, PNG must rate among the wealthiest nations on Earth. If Papua

New Guineans could push the World Bank and transnational companies off their backs, I suggested, then they could define development that makes sense in their culture and chart their own course into the future.

My remarks were covered by the media and upon returning to my hotel room the next day, I was challenged by Ajay Chhibber, World Bank division chief for Indonesia and the Pacific Islands. He told me I was completely misinformed and demanded an opportunity to set me straight. When I entered my room, the phone was ringing. It was Pirooz Hamidian, senior country economist, East Asia Department, World Bank.

I met them at 6:30 am and Chhibber began by saying "You and I are well off. We don't have the right to deny the poor people of the world an opportunity to improve their lives." I agreed. But who is really "poor" and how do we define "improvement," I asked. What are the fundamental assumptions underlying the kind of economics the World Bank is forcing on to the so-called "developing" world?

I suggested that global economics overvalue human capital while externalizing natural capital. That's why forests and rivers, for example, that have provided a living for people for millennia, only have economic value when humans "develop" them.

There are alternatives to the World Bank's ideas. All nations share the same biosphere. PNG forests remove greenhouse gases we produce disproportionately, so it's in OUR interest to pay PNG to maintain their forests.

We can encourage forest protection by ensuring PNG gets full value for wood cut sustainably. And we can inform people in the South by our experience that a high consumption, profit-driven way of life has enormous social and ecological costs.

To this Chhibber retorted: "People are better off now than they have ever been. There's more food than ever before in history and it's because of economic development."

From Sarawak to Brazil to Kenya, this kind of development has concentrated wealth in few hands while creating ecological degradation and poverty for many.

But, I said, leading scientists of the world are warning about ecological catastrophe. Chhibber replied: "Scientists said 20 years ago there would be major famine and large numbers of people would die. It never happened. They often over exaggerate."

His facile dismissal of scientific expertise and some 10 million deaths by starvation annually reveals why the World Bank mentality is so deadly.

Around the County Town

by Jeanne Sears (call 286-1538)

Friday, August 4 was our monthly barbecue at The Terrace with chefs Fred G. and Peter H. We enjoyed the BBQ as well as the birthday cake and ice cream for those celebrating this month. Peggy G. was the lucky winner of our draw again and we held our mini-bake sale that Saturday making us a few dollars for our club.

Ladies celebrating birthdays this week are Alice Sedgwick and Pearl Barry - we won't say how many but sincere good wishes to both.

The Wee Kirk had bible readings last Friday morning with Ruby Francis and Freda Hulbig and hymn singing with Pearl Barry on guitar accompanying Bob and Beryl Fleming. This was followed by a great talk from Miss Marion Sedgwick, retired missionary. What a great way to make use of this building.

Lyle and Brenda Robbins and family from Hanmer visited with his parents Kit and Ralph Schroter and Kit went home with them for a visit.

Mike and Maureen McElwain and boys from Millbrook had a short visit with Dorothy McElwain one day last week.

Stanhope's Tuesday Bridge group enjoyed another fine afternoon but no slams. Six tables, with winners Ray Brown, Vange Croucher and tied for third, Stella McMillan and Betty Schlotter. The games begin every Tuesday, promptly at 1 p.m. and no partners needed.

Visiting Elsie Bursey for a few days were John and Lillian Bursey from Yarmouth, Nova Scotia.

Club 35 euchre game winners for August 7 included Jean Dutka with most lone hands, Helen Henderson and Garth Windsor with the highs, Kristy Heller, Allan Lawrence and Mary Reesor. Margaret Fletcher took the 50-50 draw and everyone is welcome to attend the Club 35 games every Monday at 7:30 p.m. No partners required and the building is air conditioned. Don't forget the Roast Beef dinner.

Schoolmates Marge Addison from Verona and Florence Hamilton from Belleville had a great time visiting Doris Grant last week.

I had a busy day last Sunday when Paul and Islay and Tom visited me then took me for a visit with some of their folks. That evening I joined the people at South Lake Trailer Camp for a time with Carol and Reg Leaman and daughter Karen. We all really enjoyed the postponed fireworks.

Weekend guest with Audrey and Bob Vick was their son Wayne from Toronto.

Quilt Draw winner at St. Peter's Anglican Church was Mrs. Betty Davis of R.R. #1 holding ticket 310 which was drawn by Gerald Bain.

Marlene McElwain and son Gordon of London enjoyed several days with her parents Lloyd and Alice Sedgwick and Edna McElwain and helped Alice celebrate her birthday.

Minden Library was certainly busy when I stopped in for some reading last Wednesday afternoon. I counted 12 people making selections and finding information. We really need this branch open more in the summer.

All good wishes to the following reportedly on the sick list: Annie Kernohan, Doug Pritchard, Ivan Ingram Jr., Norma Burk, Norah Briggs and Ed Hisson, may you all soon regain better health.

The Legion Seniors group enjoyed a luncheon followed by a lovely cruise from Red Umbrella Inn on August 9. A very pleasant afternoon with good chats and view of our lovely scenery.

Sincere sympathy goes to the families and friends of the late Alvin Thornley, Florence Taylor, Lorraine Woodcock and also to Al Stott on the death of his sister.

A small group attended the weekly Monday afternoon euchres at St. Paul's with winners of the day being Hazel Austin and Verna McDonald with Jeanne Sears getting most lone hands and the draw of the day!

Tuesday afternoon Minden Legion Seniors bid euchre winners included, with a moonshot, Judy M with others Helen Lee, Jack C., and Verna McDonald. They welcome all to come out and have a game which begins at 1:30 p.m.

Every Wednesday evening euchre games are held at the Noble Motel and the winners on August 9 included Bob Thomas, Audrey Parker and Todd Edgson with most lone hands.

Stanhope Library bid euchre game winners for August 9 were Brian Henderson and Milton Fletcher, other winners with hidden scores were Clare Brown and Helen Lee. Others included Maxine Thomson, Grace Dixon, Pearl Foster, John Klok, Stan Walters, Pat Scadden and Jim Foster.

Next week we will see the Haliburton County Fair with all the events including the annual parade. During Kinmount Fair on September 2, there will be a dance at Legion Branch 441 (Kinmount) with D.J. Bruce Newman, refreshment and prizes will be available.

Winners at the RCL Branch 636 euchre games on August 10 included Jessie Preston and Milton Fletcher with most lone hands, Vicki Campagnolo and Stan Cline with the highs while others were Helen Lee, M. Cole, Norm Lee, Todd Edgson, Roy McDonald, Marcel Rousselle, Pat Scadden and Jean Scadden.

A very special morning was held at the Little Red School house at the Museum complex when Jean Cox, retired teacher, led the pupils, 4 girls and a boy, to their seats after ringing the hand bell. Mrs. Cox led them in singing the traditional "God Save The King" and showed the flags of that era, the Union Jack and the Ontario Maple Leaf. She told them of the various subjects taught in rural schools and showed them the old handwriting skills in a workbook. Mrs. Cox explained all the equipment of this original S.S.#9 Stanhope School known as Hindon Hill. At the end of the "school day" P.S. Inspector Dick gave each pupil a certificate of merit bringing a very different school morning to a close. Please note the official opening of the school is August 16 at 11 a.m. Plan to be there.

NOTICE

I wish to announce to my patients that my last day of practice in Minden will be September 5, 1995. The decision to leave Minden has been a difficult one with much deliberation and thought. I have enjoyed my time here and I am grateful that you have allowed me to be your physician. I would like to thank the staff at the office and at the hospital for their help and support during my four years in Minden. My wife and I will be moving and establishing ourselves in Lindsay. Best of luck in the future.

Sincerely,

Marc Chayer M.D.

CARDS OF THANKS

Dear Friends,
Sorry I'm late, but a friend of mine is helping me write. I've been away several months, back home again now. They tell seniors to live in their own home as long as they can and that's what I want to do. I want to thank Ada Handley and all the members who remembered me on my birthday. I was 92 on July 21. I want to thank you all for all the beautiful cards that were sent to me. I can't thank each individual myself, so I'm sending this letter to let you all know how you are appreciated.
Thank you again. God Bless you all.
Love,
Vi Cook,
Irondale.

IN MEMORIAM

BRYANT, Albert - In loving memory of a dear father and grandfather who passed away on August 14, 1994. Your end was coming very soon. It made us weep and cry, But the saddest part of all Dad, We never got to say goodbye. Lovingly remembered and sadly missed by your daughter Shirley and your granddaughter Andrea and your twin grandsons Brandon and Bryan.

BRYANT, Albert - In loving memory of a dear father and grandfather who passed away August 14, 1994. "Tis well he will suffer no more In the loved land of the blest, Pain fled as he trod Heaven's shore; It left him at peace and rest. Lovingly missed by Sheila and family.
